

Blog from the 8th March of 2020.

Today Arne and I went with our Hosts to Hastings. When we arrived at Hastings we went to the sea where we watched the waves and played with the dog of our Host family (Sammy). After that we went to a Restaurant where we ate our first fish and chips. It was really nice we both enjoyed it. After that we went to an arcade-playroom. We didn't win anything but it was still quite funny. Finally we went again to the sea to find some seashells, we found also quite a lot. We also played there and jumped away from the waves. After that we went to the train station and drove home. It was a real cool day.
